The war bond sales certainly picked up in Grenada County during October. This county bought 131 percent of its quota in October, compared to the miserable record (contained in an editorial in this newspaper a month ago) which it made in the month of September. Still Grenada County is behind Calhoun County which bought 175 percent of its quota in October.

Dear Orley: I received the copy of the invoice, but I did not receive the goods, although the invoice was marked "PAID".

How about some personal stationery for men in service or for the old lady or the sweetie? See our samples. Patronize home industry.

I heard over the radio this morning an announcement that all married men without children would likely get "Grossing from the President" before the first of the year. Maybe some of the single ones, apparently overlooked, will get a letter from the President before the year is over, provided the war lasts ten years.

I understand some of the beer boys are going to protest the beer election on technical grounds. As stated last week, I think this is an extremely futile and foolish gesture. The people spoke in no mistakable terms. I voted to keep beer, but I was in the minority (and how!), so I yield to the majority gracefully, especially when I seldom drink any beer anyway.

We sent off the "copy" for 16 pages of our rotogravure supplement last Saturday and hope to send the other 16 pages this week.

Things were better on the Peavine and West Ward last Saturday night.

The war is not over yet. As Churchill said "this is not the beginning of the end; it is the end of the beginning."

Grenada County led the state in the scrap drive, turning in 1,232,000 pounds of scrap up to the close of the official campaign, November 11. This was 64.67 pounds per capita. Grenada County's scrap drive for top honor in this state was Chickasaw County with 48.12 pounds per capita. Mr. J. M. Talbert is county chairman, and he is not going to relax his search for scrap for the need of scrap did not end on November 11, nor will it end until the war ends.

Miss Betty Rule is our very latest subscriber in Bakersfield, California. She has sense, beauty and poise.

Aint they sweet.

While we expected to close the gates on the rotogravure supplement about a week ago, the delay in receiving a few scattered pictures caused us to postpone the closing date which will positively be Saturday noon. While we have sought to see everyone, we may have failed to see some. If so, you can STILL get in the so-called black and white part of the paper at about half the price paid for appearance in the photo supplement. This issue will probably be composed of 3 sections of black and white, and positively 32 pages of rotogravure - the ONLY such issue ever published in the State of Mississippi.

Mrs. Gladys Rule has gone to Bakersfield, California to reside with her daughter, Miss Betty.

Let's keep the Peavine and West Ward, as well as other sections of the city quiet as possible.

Had a nice letter from Robert Murphy who is in Athens, Georgia with Uncle Sam. Hope to publish it next week.

Kids sort of get on your nerves when all of them are at home, but it is painfully quiet around our home with all four of ours away from home - two in the Army and two in college. I think I could stand a little noise now and then.

The Presbyterians of Grenada are setting a good example by furnishing several of their Sunday School rooms for the entertainment of the soldiers. They are not quite ready, but will be soon.

FOR SALE: one 1 h. p. Westinghouse 3 phase electric motor, in excellent condition, 1100 RPM, $50.00 cash money.

I believe Grenada will be proud of the rotogravure edition we are getting out. It will be a credit to Grenada, to the camp and to the GOW.

Look at the expiration date on YOUR paper and, if you are "out", send in the cash money.

The "Jack Barn" is getting to be tight pretty.

Dist. Meeting For Industrial Scrap Collection Held

The Industrial Salvage Program of the WPB was explained to a group of Grenada industrialists at a meeting Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was called by Mr. Earl Burkley, member of the Executive Committee of the Industrial Salvage Program. Mr. L. M. Taylor, General Sales Manager of Mississippi Power & Light Co., who is serving as State Chairman, brought out the imperative need of scrap iron and steel with which to keep the steel furnaces of our country operating to supply the guns, tanks, airplanes, and ships needed in the war. It was emphasized that the Industrial Salvage Program would not in any way conflict with the general salvage program which has been so successful in Mississippi.

Attention in the Industrial Scrap Program is being focused on the dormant and obsolete equipment in industrial plants throughout the nation. Industry has done a splendid job in providing the implements of war and also in furnishing scrap. Under the present conditions, 70 percent of the scrap will have to come from American industries, as normal scrap sources are not sufficient to meet the requirements. It was emphasized that we at home must unite and do our part in this all out war effort, in order to back up our fighting forces on the far-flung battle fronts.

As 17,000,000 tons of scrap will be needed between July 1 and December 31, 1942, each industry is urged to make a complete survey of their plant and classify all unused or obsolete equipment, so that it can be scrapped or put in use by someone else in the war effort.

Mr. John S. Knox, District Manager of the Industrial Salvage Section of WPB, Jackson, Miss., informed those attending the meeting that the WPB would be glad to list any unused equipment that might, under the plan, be used by other industries. Mr. Knox also answered questions regarding the program.

Mr. P. T. LaGrone, Division Manager of the Mississippi Power & Light Company, stated that his company was cooperating in the program. The company has volunteered representatives who will make two calls on each industry in the Grenada Area to explain the Industrial Salvage Program and to secure a report for WPB covering the scrap disposed of.

Each industry is asked to appoint an industrial salvage manager who will have authority to make complete inventory of all unused equipment and dispose of all scrap possible in line with the slogan of the program, which is, "If it hasn't been used in three months and no one can prove that it is going to be used in three months, find a use for it or scrap it."

Among those attending the meeting were: J. E. Allen, Winona Gin; I. E. Solar, Grenada Industries, Inc.; H. S. Thomas, Miss. Power & Light Co.; Rupert Ringold, Mayor of Winona; Cliff Johnson, Miss. Power & Light Co.; Joe Thompson, Allen Cooperative; W. A. Williams, Miss. Power & Light Co.; J. B. Phillips, Phillips Lumber Co.; A. C. Hooper, Mayor of Emporia; W. M. Sutton, Miss. Power & Light Co.; L. D. Boone, Grenada Store Co.; C. C. Cathey, Bellgrade Lumber Co.; B. E. Williams, Mayor of Charleston; R. S. Herring, Miss. Power & Light Co.; L. M. Taylor and P. T. LaGrone, Miss. Power & Light Co.; John S. Knox, WPB, and W. W. Whitaker, editor The Grenada County Weekly.

Scrap Chairman Talbert Makes Final Report

I would like to personally thank the different chairmen of each group, also the County Vice Chairman, Mrs. Noel, of the Chamber of Commerce, also the Grenada High School group and every man, woman and child in Grenada County for the fine cooperation given me in the scrap drive.

The Women's Club for their untiring efforts in behalf of the drive, the County Supervisors for the use of their county trucks, also the City of Grenada for use of trucks.

Each person that took part in this drive showed the patriotic spirit of the Citizens of Grenada County and showed that when Grenada County has a job to do no matter what it may be, that they have the will to do it.

To have served as your County Chairman has been a pleasure and I sincerely thank each of you for your cooperation and it is with thanks, to the newspapers for their cooperation throughout the campaign that I want to say thank you.

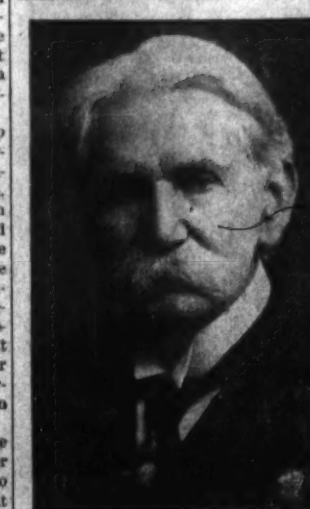

Our final report shows over 71 lbs. per capita.

Mr. William M. Dubard Celebrates 95th Birthday

The Dubard family, including the third generation, gathered Sunday afternoon, November 8th at the Dubard home on Third Street to celebrate the 95th birthday of their beloved father, Hon. William M. Dubard. The home was aglow with many gift bouquets of autumn's vivid chrysanthemums and asters, and in this setting the splendid family enjoyed a real reunion and visit with the head of the family and with members of the family who reside out of town. There were five absent from the group, the grandsons who are in their country's service, namely, Ensign Vassa Dubard, Jr., on Submarine duty, Allan Anderson, who is in New York, Robert Hines, Camp Shelby, Lt. Robt. Lomax in California; and William Dubard, of Avalon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vassa Dubard, of Dubard, at Camp Shelby.

A beautifully decorated cake with 95 tiny candles was cut and served with ice cream. The family gathered at 2:30 and remained at the home all afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Anderson and their youngest son, Mrs. Roberta Allen and two daughters; Mr. and Mrs. Vassa Dubard, Sr. and Mrs. Lewis Dubard, Jr., and children; Mrs. J. W. Lipscomb and two sons, of Jackson; Miss Marjorie Dubard, Aberdeen; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hines and their daughter, Mrs. Henry Dodge and two children, of Tupelo; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lomax, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lomax, Jr., and daughter, of Greenwood; Mr. and Mrs. David Dubard and Dianna; Attorney and Mrs. W. A. Lomax and Mr. and Mrs. John McEachin and two sons, of Grenada.

The family enjoyed motion pictures made by one of the family and particularly did the family enjoy the picture recording the scene on the Dubard plantation of Mr. Dubard giving his tenants advice in farming.

This lovely November day will live always in the memory of this devoted family and it is our earnest prayer that Mr. Dubard will live to enjoy more such happy occasions.

Mrs. E. L. Wilkins' Tenants Set Other Good Examples

The Grenada Trust Bank did a big business when Mrs. E. L. Wilkins "settled" with the numerous tenants on her Beat Five farm recently when these tenants bought 49 $18.75 war bonds. In settling with each tenant, Mrs. Wilkins gave two checks: a check to the Trust Bank for the number of bonds the tenant wanted, and another check representing the tenant's "Balance Due."

Following is a list of tenants with the number of $18.75 bonds bought by each: Garfield Hardman (1); Garfield Hardman, Jr. (1); Ben Stokes (3); Willie Winter (1); Lewis Winter (2); Clivia Clark (3); Vassar Hall (1); Walter Myke (1); Garrett Myke (1); Flisk Jones (1); Leonard Winter (4); Fred House, Jr. (1); Fred House (4); Rich Jones (4); Cap Talford (2); Rich Talford (1); Mose Jefferson (4); Robert Jefferson (5); Jim Talford (1); Newberger Brown (1); Jack Laughton (1); Purdie Jackson (1); Henry Peacock (1); Will Pearsons (2) and Henry Mullen (1).

Corporal Kermit Yopp Graduates

Corporal Kermit M. Yopp, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Yopp, Grenada, Mississippi, was graduated from the Fort Crook Ordnance Automotive School, Fort Crook, Nebraska. The course covered maintenance, repair and conveying of government vehicles ranging from the ever popular "jeep" to the large prime-mover.

Death Ends The Career Of Claud Augustine Perry

On Wednesday afternoon, November 11, 1942 death wrote "Final" to the career of Claud Augustine Perry, native of Grenada County, in his home in Grenada.

Mr. Perry was the son of the late Mr. J. E. Perry and Mrs. Susan A. Perry, both of whom were lifelong residents of Grenada and Grenada County. He was born near Graysport, this county, on November 15, 1879. He was a graduate of Grenada High School and of Draughton Business College in Memphis. For 28 years, he was agent here for the Standard Oil Company, starting back in the days when only coal oil was sold, and gasoline was a waste product. On December 23, 1908 he and Miss Willie Mae Lee, member of a prominent Holmes county family, were married in Acona, Mississippi. Two children, Pvt. John Rufus Perry and Mrs. Irvin Johnson, came to this union. Since 1908, he has been a member of the First Baptist Church of Grenada. At the time of his death he was a member of the City Council of Grenada and Chairman of the Grenada County Rationing Board.

Claud was a fellow who did not hesitate to speak his mind, whether what he said suited his audience or not. He was one of those men, like the late Dr. D. O. Semmes and the late Mr. Claud Hall, who tried to shield a kind heart by a hard-boiled attitude, but he did not fool anyone who knew him, for he was extremely kind hearted and the good deeds that he has done would fill a large volume, if known.

Services are being held today at the home on Levee St. by the Rev. Glen Eric Wiley, pastor of that church, after which his body was buried in Odd Fellows Cemetery. The following friends served as pallbearers: John Weir, Mack McCord, Albert Hayward, Earl Horton, Frank Maracalco and Jim Cuff.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Willie Lee Perry; one son, Pvt. John R. Perry of Elgin Field, Florida; one daughter, Mrs. Irvin Johnson of Grenada; one brother, J. B. Perry, Sr. of Grenada and two sisters, Mesdames R. Pressgrove and Elizabeth Brown, both of Grenada.

To the sorrowful ones, we extend our sympathy.

Don't Hamper War Effort by Indiscriminate Phone Use

A telephone bell demands attention in a Grenada doctor's office. Secretary: "Dr. Blank's office." Caller: "Is Dr. Blank in?" Secretary: "Dr. Blank is on a call at the hospital. May I deliver your message?"

Caller: "No, I'll call back." STILL KEEPS MUM

Caller calls back, still won't state business. (Two calls). Telephone rings later. Same caller: "Is Dr. Blank in?"

Secretary: Dr. Blank is still at the hospital. Can't I deliver your message or have him call you?

Caller: "Well, have him call number so-and-so." Secretary: "What is your name and address?"

Caller: "Oh, just have him call that number, go'bye." (Three calls). The office calls the hospital. (Four calls). The operator pages the doctor over the loud speaker. (Five calls). The doctor calls his office. (Six calls). Then he tries to call the person calling him. (Seven calls). The line is busy. He tries again. (Eight calls). He tries several more times. (Twelve calls). Finally he has to go back to his office. Result:

They call again. (Thirteen calls). And so forth.

PROPER METHOD GIVEN

This, according to a Grenada member of the medical profession, is a call-by-call description of the way the average person is responding to the Government's plea to cut down on telephone calls in order that facilities may be used for urgent military communication.

Here is the proper way to call the doctor, in the opinion of at least one of them.

The office answers: "Dr. Blank's office." Caller: "This is Mrs. D. D. Dokes, 180 South Noname Street. My telephone number so-and-so. My child is ill with temperature and pain in the stomach. Will you please have Dr. Blank come as quickly as possible to 180 South Noname Street?"

Seldom are more than two calls necessary to do the job, doctors say, and this procedure would save thousands of calls—not to mention the wear and tear on the doctors, all of whom are now carrying more than twice their normal load.

Since there is such a critical shortage of doctors and since those left for civilian service need every minute of the day, it also imperative that patients keep appointments, and do not wait until late afternoon to visit his office.

Information About Gas Rationing Released By Mrs. Martin

Autoists who expect to apply for supplemental rations to enable them to drive to and from work should make plans now to share rides with others needing transportation to their jobs, Mrs. Lucile D. Martin, secretary of the local War Price and Rationing Board, declared today.

"Car sharing has been made an integral part of the mileage rationing program because it is the most effective means of providing essential transportation on a minimum amount of rubber," said Mrs. Martin. "To get more than the basic 'A' ration, a car owner must form a car-sharing club to carry at least three other persons to and from work, or prove that he cannot do so."

The rationing board secretary suggested that car owners get together with their neighbors on some car sharing plan, or with fellow employees at the plant or office. If two or more cars are to be used in the club, members may divide up the use of those cars to suit their convenience. Supplemental rations will then be issued each vehicle for mileage to meet its obligations.

The club must be formed before the application for a supplemental ration is submitted to the board. In fact, six members of all members must appear on the application, and applicants must certify that they will carry through their part in the car club agreement.

USO Activities In Grenada

Mr. A. R. Dockery this week donated a piano and a pool table to the local USO. If we had more citizens like Mr. Dockery, more USO dollars could be used to lessen the loneliness of the soldiers in Grenada.

The USO director is due to arrive in Grenada around the 20th of November, Mr. Hugh Thomas, a man of wide experience and ability has been appointed to the job.

The American Legion Auxiliary, with Mrs. McCorkle as chairman, was hostess to the USO dance Saturday night. Around 150 soldiers were present to enjoy the evening with the Junior hostesses. Mrs. Albert George received the young ladies and checked their cards at the Lane Street entrance Mrs. Ernest Penn, Mrs. E. H. Whitaker, Mrs. Frank Gerard, Mrs. Hal Cullen and Mrs. J. M. Talbert were chaperones. Ice cream garnished with small American flags and cookies was served at intermission.

Sunday afternoon there was an unusually large group of soldiers to enjoy the comforts of the USO building. Several Junior hostesses were present to help the men pass a pleasant afternoon of group singing, ping pong and table games. Mrs. Donald Ross and Mrs. Albert George were senior hostesses. Refreshments were served during the afternoon and until 10 p. m.

Monday night 60 enlisted men enjoyed playing cigarette bingo at the USO building. Three cartons of cigarettes were given away during the evening. Coca Cola and cookies were served. Mrs. Rogers Burt was hostess.

The Iris Club and the Garden Club are responsible for the cookie jar at the USO this week. Next week the Woman's Club and the P. T. A. will keep the jar filled.

At a committee meeting Saturday the following official hostesses were named for the USO:

Mrs. E. L. Belf, Service Mothers' Club; Mrs. Rogers Burt, Fortnightly Club; Mrs. Jim Keeton, Eastern Star; Mrs. Glen Thomason, Garden Club; Mrs. H. L. Honeycutt, 20th Century Club; Mrs. Sam McCorkle, American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. C. C. Richardson, P. T. A.; Mrs. Ralph Semmes, Music Club; Mrs. Frank Gerard, Woman's Club; Mrs. Velma Neely, Home Demonstration Club; Mrs. J. K. Avenet, Iris Club; Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, Publicity; Mrs. Donald Ross and Mrs. Albert George, Invitation Committee.

Victory Musicals To Be Held Wednesday, Nov. 18

On Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 of next week, (Nov. 18) the MacDowell Musicals will present Club members and visiting musicians at a delightful "Victory Musical."

The program is being arranged and a treat is in store for those who attend. The price of admission is to "show" a newly purchased 25c War Stamp at the door.

The talented Hungarian violinist, Frederick Balazs, of Camp McCain, accompanied by Mrs. L. C. Proby, will play. There will be piano and voice solos also a quartet to sing.

Remember you are invited.

tin emphasized, are not to be presented registrars at school houses on November 18, 19 and 20. These registrars are authorized to issue only the basic ration book—"A" books for passenger car owners, and "D" books for motorcyclists.

However, vehicle operators who feel they will need more mileage than the basic books provide may ask the registrar for a supplemental application. This is to be filled out later and sent to a local War Price and Rationing Board.

The basic books will provide mileage for 240 miles a month. If the person to whom the ration is issued intends to use his car for driving to work, or in connection with his work, he will be expected to consider 150 miles a month of his ration available for such driving. The remaining 90 miles may be reserved for such essential family travel as driving children to school, or sick persons to the doctor.

Operators of trucks, busses and taxis must have their Certificates of War Necessity before applying to the local War Price and Rationing Board for their mileage rations, Mrs. Martin, secretary of the board, declared today.

"The Certificates of War Necessity, issued by the Office of Defense Transportation, form the basis for our issuance of transportation rations to these commercial vehicles," said Mrs. Martin. "When applicants come to the board they must bring these certificates, together with properly executed application for a mileage ration."

Each War Necessity Certificate states the number of miles the vehicle for which the certificate is issued will be allowed to travel during a three month period. The certificate also states the number of gallons of gasoline needed to cover this mileage.

The OPA board will determine the amount of transportation rations to be issued for the vehicle on the basis of the mileage allowed on the certificate. In no case is the board permitted to allow more gasoline than is stipulated on the certificate.

Grenada motorists registering for basic mileage rations at school house registration sites on November 18, 19 and 20, must take along their application forms, listing serial numbers on their tires, and their car registration cards. Mrs. Lucile Martin, secretary of the Grenada War Price and Ration Board, declared today.

Mrs. Martin announced that local school authorities have arranged for registration to take place in four schools on the three days from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m.

"The application forms are now available at service stations, garages and other conveniently located places throughout the county, and should be picked up at once by any owner of a passenger car or motorcycle who does not already have one," Mrs. Martin said.

"The form is simple. Most of the information can be obtained from the vehicle registration card. The most important information needed to fill out the application, however, is the list of serial numbers on every tire which you or any relative living in your home own for that vehicle."

"The serial numbers," Mrs. Martin warned, "are the indented numbers on the tire walls. They are not to be confused with any raised numbers appearing on the tires. In case the serial numbers have been obliterated, only the brand name of the tire need be listed."

The secretary of the War Price and Rationing Board urged car owners with more than five tires for each vehicle to dispose of these excess tires at once, since the school house registrar cannot issue a mileage ration book to any applicant who lists more than five tires. Excess tires can be sold to the government through the local office of the Railway Express Agency.

"Only basic ration books will be issued by the school house registrars," Mrs. Martin said. "Motorists with car registration cards and property filled out applications forms will be issued 'A' books providing for 240 miles of driving a month. Motorcyclists will get 'D' books, good for similar mileage."

"No supplemental rations will be issued at this registration time. So don't ask the registrar for any. However, anyone who feels he will need more mileage than the basic book provides may ask the registrar for an application form for a supplemental ration."

"This form is to be filled out later and presented to a local War Price and Rationing Board. The board will issue a supplemental ration only after a careful examination of the applicant's need for additional mileage and his plans for car sharing."

Applicants for basic rations should go to the school house registration site nearest their homes. The schools to be used for registration are: Grenada, Gore Springs, Hardy and Holcomb.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY

On Monday afternoon the Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church met in Circle meetings.

EPISCOPAL AUXILIARY

The Auxiliary of All Saints Episcopal Church met at the home of Mrs. John King, Miss Robbie Doak hostess on Monday afternoon. Twelve members were present.

Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, president, presided. Mrs. Sax Weir led the devotion. Mrs. W. J. Sherwood, secretary, read the minutes of preceding meeting.

Business was attended to and a nominating committee for the 1943 officers was named. Next week the Auxiliary will meet in the lovely country home of Mrs. J. W. Jordan at 2 o'clock. The reason for the early hour of meeting is to avoid the afternoon traffic rush from Camp McCain.

LUNCHEON FOR OFFICERS' WIVES

On Thursday, November 5, the Iris Club members were hostesses to a group of Army Officers' wives at a luncheon arranged in the dining room of the Community House. Mrs. J. K. Arent, president of the Club assisted by Mrs. Will Hill greeted the guests at one o'clock. Mrs. Vandiver recited the Iris Club poem before the guests were seated at the luncheon table and later Mrs. Dawson Winter, of Jackson, read two of her poems.

The lovely flowers used to decorate the reception and dining room were from the gardens of the town, and especially lovely were the chrysanthemums gracing the luncheon tables. Quaint soldier figures marked the honored guests' places at the table. A beautiful plate containing cream chicken, potatoes, pickle and olives was served as first course, and delectable egg nog pudding and coffee for dessert. The Club presented Mrs. Ryder, wife of Colonel Ryder, a lovely corsage as she was seated at the head of the table. Approximately 60 plates were served.

We failed to chronicle the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Moody, of Arcadia, Calif., were visitors in the home of their niece, Mrs. John Bradley. This is their first visit here in about ten years and certainly proved a most delightful one. Mr. Moody is a brother of Mrs. Bradley's father, the late Mr. T. E. Moody.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weir left Monday for South Carolina to reside. Mr. Weir is employed by J. A. Jones Construction Co.

Private Andrew Donelson Whitaker, second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, was sent from Camp Shelby, Miss., to Maxwell Field, Ala., where he was classed as aviation radio apprentice. He was then sent to Smyrna Field within 20 miles of Nashville, Tenn., for instructions.

Mrs. W. K. Kuhne is happy to have her mother here for a visit.

Pvt. Sydney T. Kettle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kettle and Pvt. Thomas D. McLeod, son of Mrs. Alice McLeod have joined the Army Air Corps and are classified as mechanics of ground force. They enlisted in Memphis and were sent to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and are now stationed at the Air Base at Jackson, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Echols at the Tie Plant, were happy to have their two fine children, Miss Virginia, member of the school faculty at Albertville, Ala., as music teacher, and Lt. Barney Echols, of Miami Beach, Fla., at home for a week-end visit last week. They left early Tuesday morning. "Bubber" will report to a camp near Salt Lake City, Utah for duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Neely and Mrs. Ben Brown visited their children, Joe Neely, Jr., and family and Mrs. Sam Houston and family in Birmingham, this past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jones, of Cleveland, visited their mother, Mrs. Annie Jones on Sunday.

Miss Louise Arent, of Ole Miss, spent the week-end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. "Skeet" Alexander and baby, of Memphis, were here the past week-end visiting Mr. and Mrs. "Alex" Alexander and Mrs. C. C. Provine.

Mrs. Ward, of Sardis, is visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Pressgrove.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Horton will spend this week-end at Ole Miss as guest of Miss Louise Arent.

Farm income this year is the highest in history—about a million dollars above the previous high record of 1919.

With more money and with shortages in things we usually spend it for, prices should be higher than a kite according to the old economic law of supply and demand. OPA is sitting on the lid—trying to hold them down. Some things are going up . . . will go up. But it will be a slow rise, so gradual that stocking up or hoarding won't help anyone.

Last week OPA announced an increase of 10 percent in men's and boys' ready-made suits.

HEAVY LIQUOR TAXES

The new taxes are going to put a damper on a lot of foolish spending. A preview of what's coming is found in the November excise tax upping the cost of smokes and drinks. The old 5c cigar is a 6-cents now . . . Bonded whiskey is taxed 25c more a pint . . . An increase of 23 cents per gallon in California wines, however, doesn't apply to wines produced in the South.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

OPA has warned that stores which gave pre-holiday season discounts on Christmas cards a year ago must do the same this year.

Maximum charges cotton warehouses may make for resampling and reweighing haven't been changed, says OPA but increases have been allowed only for storage and handling of cotton.

MORE RABBITS WANTED

Hat makers are facing a shortage of felt. Wild rabbit fur is used to make felt, and since rabbits destroy crops, we can kill two-thirds with one stone by shooting rabbits.

Fedrate plans for a winter scrap campaign are being made by county salvage chairmen.

Motorists are warned to dispose of extra tires (all over five per car) before the new gas rationing date; motor-toring between summer and winter vacation homes is out for the duration.

SAFETY RAZORS CUT

No more safety razors will be made for civilian use. Blades, however, will still be manufactured.

Use of stainless steel in a long list which includes things from coffee pots and knives to farm machinery will soon be a thing of the past. No copper may be used in buildings from now on. All new farm machinery is frozen.

ARMY WANTS TYPEWRITERS

Typewriters are standard equipment on every bombing plane, at every field headquarters, on every battleship. Typewriter dealers are buying those made since 1935 for the Army and Navy.

Milk cans and all wire fencing used on farms will soon be rationed . . . Use of burlap bags is going to be restricted.

War industries have been instructed to stop recruiting "necessary" men from farming centers.

We recently received a renewal from one of our prettiest subscribers, Mrs. Charles Dickinson of Pine Bluff.

Beer likely will vanish from the controlled places when the Board of Supervisors meet on November 12th.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

Last Saturday, we added 40 odd new names to our list which is not bad for a small country weekly. That number represented about four week's accumulation. George McLean of the Tapelo Journal would probably fire Rambling Buck if he did not turn in more. However, every one of these new subscribers were "walk ins".

Squire Pickle, the Chief Justice of Beat Four, who should be in a position to know and who certainly would not make a mis-statement told me Saturday that Beat Four was getting nearly as bad as Grenada. He has to try cases often on off-days, tho he usually can care for the business of his court on Saturdays. I guess we smug folks in Grenada will quit talking about Beat Four now.

The Episcopal women certainly put on a well-attended spaghetti supper Friday night at the Community House.

This office was honored Saturday with a visit from Captain Waite, the Intelligence Officer, and Captain Usell, the Post Exchange officer, both of Camp McCain.

Aint they sweet.

Get Dr. Hill to tell you that tale about that puppy.

Speaking of Hills, I guess we will just keep set-up the local item, "Francis Hill of Ole Miss spent the week end at home".

Pvt. William G. Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fess Bailey will receive the GCW a while at his new address in Pittsburgh, Pa. Welcome, Pvt. Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Martindale have moved to Schertz, Texas. Yes, that's the name, believe it or not.

Pete, surnamed LaGrone, the peppy power purveyor of Greenville, was a recent visitor to the hills.

It looks like OUR side is now getting a few breaks. It is time.

Mrs. Ed Gee, of Holcomb, has returned to the fold, having strayed off from the mailing list for several months.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

All America Knows
Budweiser...
but Few Know This

THEY'VE PASSED THEIR 'PHYSICAL'-TOO

America's feathered and four-legged armies are very much on their toes these days. Yeast vitamins used in fortifying animal feeds have done wonders in recent years to better the quality and propagation of livestock and poultry. Did you know that the Home of Budweiser is America's biggest single source of these vitamins?

Year after year, we have striven with research and resources to better the methods and facilities for brewing Budweiser. To do this, a laboratory specializing in fermentation and nutrition was necessary. Discoveries made in the laboratory and in the plant have led to the development of products contributing to human necessity and progress. Some of these products would appear to have only a remote relationship to brewing, yet, they are the result of scientific research into many allied fields.

Endless research in making the world's leading beer has led to other products

VITAMINS, B COMPLEX—for manufacturers of pharmaceutical and food products. Our plant is one of the world's largest sources.

VITAMIN D—Anheuser-Busch produces enough of the basic material for Vitamin D to supply the entire American market.

BAKER'S YEAST—We are one of America's biggest suppliers of standard and enriched yeasts and malt syrup used to make bread.

CORN SYRUP—many millions of pounds annually for America's candy industry.

SYRUPS—for food, table and confectionery uses and special syrups for medicinal purposes.

STARCH—for food, textile, paper and other industries—millions of pounds annually.

REFRIGERATING EQUIPMENT—for retailers of frozen foods and ice cream the country over. This division is now working all-out on glider wing and fuselage assemblies for our Armed Forces.

DIESEL ENGINES—Adolphus Busch, founder of Anheuser-Busch, acquired the first rights to manufacture this revolutionary engine in America and thus started our great Diesel industry on its way.

Our Rotogravure Supplement

Our rotogravure supplement will be an integral part of some future edition of our newspaper, possibly the first edition in December. Every subscriber will therefore receive a copy of the supplement through the mail.

We have just about "closed up" the rotogravure section and are not soliciting any further space, but, until the "ALL OUT FOR VICTORY" EDITION comes out, those who wish to be represented can have space in the regular edition, that is the black and white part of the issue. We have already secured several pages of ads for this black and white section.

No one has intentionally been slighted. So far as we know every prospective cooperator has been approached by Mr. Meyers, who did most of the work of preparing this issue.

So far as we know this will be the ONLY rotogravure supplement ever issued by ANY newspaper in the State of Mississippi. As it will contain 32 pages, it will be among the LARGEST ever issued ANYWHERE.

Things Quieter Here Saturday Night

Things were much quieter on the Peavine and in "West Ward" Saturday night than they were on the previous Saturday night, when hell popped in those sections. I am speaking of the conditions around 10:30 when I made another tour by car through these sections.

Only the good natured carrying-on of the negroes and the laughter and fun inherent in that race were to be observed. I did not see a single white soldier in all of my rounds last Saturday night. The grist that the civil officers brought in the grid at the courts was not nearly so heavy last Monday as it was on the previous Monday, and this circumstance bears out what I said, that things were better.

The negroes have their own sections of this city. White civilians have no business meddling in those sections, and white soldiers should be MADE to keep out, as apparently they were kept out last Saturday night.

It is no reflection upon the negro soldier and civilian to say that he prefers to associate with members of his own race, and he should be permitted to do so without interference from white people.

Armistice Day, A Hollow Mockery At This Time

There seemed to be something fantastic and unreal in celebrating "Armistice Day" on Wednesday of this week. Celebrating Armistice Day when the world is engaged in a much greater war than the Armistice Day of 1918 temporarily closed seems like damn foolishness to me.

Celebrating Armistice Day now is very much like celebrating one's father's birthday several years after the old gentleman had been buried on the sunny slopes at Odd Fellows Cemetery.

It just does not make any sense.

Things We Refuse To Believe

We civilians are just around the corner from those shortages about which there has been a lot of talk. It will not be long before we shall be unable to buy items from an increasingly long list of luxuries and comforts.

Official spokesmen have warned that 300,000 retail stores will have to go out of business before the end of next year, and that we consumers will find ourselves back in the dark days of 1933, when the nation's worst depression was at its lowest point.

Competent business economists say that even this gloomy prediction is too optimistic—that, in fact, we are going back to the pre-World War I era before many of our now accustomed gadgets first went into mass production and became available to the rank and file.

We have been warned about this prospect time after time and then have gone to the stores and found it possible to buy anything for which we had the money. After so many apparently false alarms some of us are a bit indignant now that the pinch begins to be felt.

We shouldn't be. The alarms were real. The warnings were legitimate. They may have been a bit premature, but the intention of that was to break the bad news gradually.

The reason why, up to recently, we found plenty of everything in the stores was that we were drawing upon a huge reserve stock, made before factories began converting to war production. But the stock was not being renewed, and now it is getting alarmingly thin.

There still are a lot of labor-saving, comfort-producing, even luxury items to be had. But as each store cleans out its own reserve it cannot replenish, and so for more and more items each week we have to shop from store to store in hope that, by good chance, we shall find one that still isn't sold out.

Fortunately the pinch is going to be worse in the commodity fields where it will do least real harm.

There is no overall shortage in the raw materials for food and clothing. Some items are scarce, and some will disappear entirely; we won't have the wide selection of brands, sizes, containers, etc., to which we have become accustomed.

As we watch retail outlets disappear and shelves become bare in those that remain, we can console ourselves with the thought that—however we are deprived by contrast with 1939—everybody in the United States still can get more of necessities, and will have more of comforts, than the average man had in 1914.

Our standard of living is destined to fall.

Our chickens of reform are returning to roost. All of them are not war birds. Many of them were bred before the dark days of war in Europe.

Our soft ways must go. The hard ways of our pioneer fathers will return.

But America in 1942 and will be stabilized. We hope and pray that this stabilization will return during this decade—or this generation.—McComb Enterprises.

Unused Churches, America's Greatest Unused Asset

We have heard preachers say—via radio only—that, if we lose the war, the churches and religion in this country are likewise lost. I agree with this.

This being true, it follows then that the churches should exert every possible influence to see that the war is won.

Today, as never before, America, especially in defense areas, faces most acute shortages of space for offices, schools and other public or semi-public agencies.

The auditoriums in the churches of America are, at most, used not over three hours a week, while the vast number of Sunday School rooms are used ONLY one hour per week.

I seldom occupy space in either the auditorium or in the Sunday School rooms—not that I should not do so, I grant—and, therefore, I can look at the matter from a practical, not a religious standpoint.

With vital agencies in defense areas looking for space to work, and, in some areas, with the school plants inadequate to take care of the children very dear to the men spending a few brief months in America ere they embark on a perilous journey to a highly uncertain fate, it seems that some of this unused space, which is equipped for heating, lighting and sanitation, could be used on week days for purposes conducive to the efficient prosecution of the war effort.

How To Farm

As some of my readers may know, I used to be a farmer. My father gave me 240 acres of the best land in Grenada county right after the first World War. The old lady and I worked hard there for about fourteen years, wasting the most productive periods of our lives, and finally deeded the farm to our creditor. Therefore we are just as well prepared to tell folks how to farm as any county agent or high-powered A. & M. specialist. Here's how to farm:

RULE NO. 1—Don't bother buying fertilizer. In the first place you can't get what the experts tell you to get and in the second place if you get it, there goes your profit, if any. . . . and in the third place, why fertilize for the profit of weeds and bugs? NOTE: On 6 acres this should save you about $30 which you can set down to clear profit.

RULE NO. 2—Get all the bulletins you can from the county agent's office. They make nice wintertime reading and once you have read the catalogue of bugs, insects and worms which lie in wait for whatever you plan to plant, you will realize the hopelessness of feeding all of them satisfactorily and decide not to plant a garden again this year. This should represent a saving of about $10 and you can chalk this up to profit, too.

RULE NO. 3—Put up a sign "No Hunting" so you can protect your grey squirrels. They will busily plant seeds of oaks and pine all over the place and in practically no time at all you will have a fine stand of new young timber. In twenty years this should be worth perhaps fifty dollar an acre, whereupon you can have it cut, retire and spend the rest of your old age watching the squirrels work hard for a new crop to put your grandchildren through college.

CONCLUSION: There are other ways of farming, I am told, but all the rest represent entirely too much effort and none of them will show anything like the profits of the method I have carefully outlined here.

One Victory Does Not Win A War

In less than 24 hours after the announcement that troops and supplies of the United Nations have landed somewhere on the Mediterranean coast of French Africa, we hear numerous comments that "it won't be long now." Even though the German army is in full retreat, and even though the whole Axis force in Egypt is captured or annihilated, we should not forget that this battle sector is small, involving only about 125,000 troops, whereas there still remain millions on the Russian front and deep in Russian territory. There is no question but that, with the establishment of a new front by the Allies and with the possible complete rout of the German and Italian forces in Egypt, the morale of the Axis will be affected greatly.

However, it is wholly illogical and unreasonable to believe that we shall witness less than the best that can be thrown against Hitler's enemies until late in 1943. The Germans have made more enemies than they had in the last war, they have conquered more territory which they want to hold and finally they have less faith in the outcome of a peace settlement in their favor than did the war lords of the Kaiser. Their backs are to the wall; they know they must fight on. They believe it is a battle of extermination—that they shall be conquered in battle or be annihilated in the end by those whom they have conquered and persecuted mercilessly.

We believe, too, that Germany and Italy will be the first of the Axis alliance to quit or be conquered, but what Germany does or what the United Nations are able to do to her is one thing and dealing with Japan is quite another matter. Ray Cromley, writing in the Wall Street Journal says, "Japan wants an exhausted world to deal with, one that will be easy to handle. Thus, to the Japanese mind, the United Nations are useful in 'exhausting' the Germans, just as the Germans are valuable in 'exhausting' the United Nations."

Of our enemies, Japan is the most war-minded. She looked further into the future in mapping out her course of destruction and she has been actively engaged in war longer than either of the Axis nations. After more than three years of war against China we counted her through. We said she wanted to turn loose and couldn't. We said she was bankrupt, her people were tired of war and her essential supplies for waging war longer were depleted. We basked in the limelight of such misleading statements as, "Her soldiers are dumb; her aviators can't fly," etc. Many have contended that Japan has spread herself too thinly; we must recognize the fact that the United Nations, in delivering supplies to their allies to maintain their own bases of operations, cover by far more nautical miles than Japan.

Of course the picture looks brighter and the end is some nearer but let's not forget that we shall have an enemy to deal with long after the echo of the last shot in Europe has died out.

The sooner all of us forget the beer election and get back to an important matter—that of helping win the war—the better off all of us will be.

It is extremely likely that the sale of beer will be illegal in Grenada County on November 19, after the board of supervisors meets in a call session on the 18th.

Aint they sweet.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed by the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY

On Monday afternoon the Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church met in Circle meetings.

Circle No. 1 met in the home of Mrs. H. O. Bland on Fairfield. Preceding the program, Mrs. Bland served cream and cake. The devotional was led by Mrs. Bland and the program lesson was discussed by Mrs. C. A. Pharr.

Circle No. 2 of which Mrs. John E. Martin is chairman, met at the church.

Circle No. 3 met in the home of Mrs. C. C. Penn. Mrs. Lane is chairman of the circle. Eleven members were present. The hostess served Coca-Cola and sandwiches as the members arrived.

Mrs. Margaret Noel taught a most interesting Bible lesson.

Circle No. 4 met in the home of Mrs. Will Hill. Twelve members were present and Mrs. Estes Pleasants, chairman, opened the meeting with a short devotional. Mrs. Aubrey Thompson taught the Bible lesson. Mrs. Hill served Coca-Cola and cookies.

EPISCOPAL AUXILIARY

The Auxiliary of All Saints Episcopal Church met at the home of Mrs. John King. Miss Robbie Doak hostess on Monday afternoon. Twelve members were present.

Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, president, presided. Mrs. Sax Weil led the devotional. Mrs. W. J. Sherwood, secretary, read the minutes of preceding meeting.

Business was attended to and a nominating committee for the 1943 officers was named. Next week the Auxiliary will meet in the lovely country home of Mrs. J. W. Jordan at 2 o'clock. The reason for the early hour of meeting is to avoid the afternoon traffic rush from Camp McCain.

LUNCHEON FOR OFFICERS' WIVES

On Thursday, November 5, the Iris Club members were hostesses to a group of Army Officers' wives at a luncheon arranged in the dining room of the Community House. Mrs. J. K. Arent, president of the Club assisted by Mrs. Will Hill greeted the guests at one o'clock. Mrs. Vandiver recited the Iris Club poem before the guests were seated at the luncheon table and later Mrs. Dawson Winter, of Jackson, read two of her poems.

The lovely flowers used to decorate the reception and dining room were from the gardens of the town, and especially lovely were the chrysanthemums gracing the luncheon tables. Quaint soldier figures marked the honored guests' places at the table. A beautiful plate containing cream chicken, potatoes, pickle and olives was served as first course, and delectable egg nog pudding and coffee for dessert. The Club presented Mrs. Ryder, wife of Colonel Ryder, a lovely corsage as she was seated at the head of the table. Approximately 60 plates were served.

We failed to chronicle the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Moody, of Arcadia, Calif., were visitors in the home of their niece, Mrs. John Bradley. This is their first visit here in about ten years and certainly proved a most delightful one. Mr. Moody is a brother of Mrs. Bradley's father, the late Mr. T. E. Moody.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weil left Monday for South Carolina to reside. Mr. Weil is employed by J. A. Jones Construction Co.

Private Andrew Donelson Whitaker, second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, was sent from Camp Shelby, Miss., to Maxwell Field, Ala., where he was classed as aviation radio apprentice. He was then sent to Smyrna Field within 20 miles of Nashville, Tenn., for instructions.

Mrs. W. K. Kuhne is happy to have her mother here for a visit.

Pvt. Sydney T. Kettle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kettle and Pvt. Thomas D. McLeod, son of Mrs. Alice McLeod have joined the Army Air Corps and are classified as mechanics of ground force. They enlisted in Memphis and were sent to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and are now stationed at the Air Base at Jackson, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Echols at the Tie Plant, were happy to have their two fine children, Miss Virginia, member of the school faculty at Albertville, Ala., as music teacher, and L. Barney Echols, of Miami Beach, Fla. at home for a week-end visit last week. They left early Tuesday morning. "Bubber" will report to a camp near Salt Lake City, Utah for duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Neely and Mrs. Ben Brown visited their children, Joe Neely, Jr., and family and Mrs. Sam Houston and family in Birmingham, this past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jones, of Cleveland, visited their mother, Mrs. Annie Jones on Sunday.

Miss Louise Arent, of Ole Miss, spent the week-end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. "Skeet" Alexander and baby, of Memphis, were here the past week-end visiting Mr. and Mrs. "Alex" Alexander and Mrs. C. C. Provine.

Christmas cards a year ago must do the same this year.

Maximum charges cotton warehouses may make for resampling and reweighing haven't been changed, says OPA but increases have been allowed only for storage and handling of cotton.

MORE RABBITS WANTED

Hat makers are facing a shortage of felt. Wild rabbit fur is used to make felt, and since rabbits destroy crops, we can kill two-thirds with one stone by shooting rabbits.

Fednite plans for a winter scrap campaign are being made by county salvage chairman.

Motorists are warned to dispose of extra tires (all over five per car) before the new gas rationing date; motoring between summer and winter vacation homes is out for the duration.

SAFETY RAZORS CUT

No more safety razors will be made for civilian use. Blades, however, will still be manufactured.

Use of stainless steel in a long list which includes things from coffee pots and knives to farm machinery will soon be a thing of the past. No copper may be used in buildings from now on. All new farm machinery is frozen.

ARMY WANTS TYPEWRITERS

Typewriters are standard equipment on every bombing plane, at every field headquarters, on every battleship. Typewriter dealers are buying those made since 1935 for the Army and Navy.

Milk cans and all wire fencing used on farms will soon be rationed. Use of burlap bags is going to be restricted.

War industries have been instructed to stop recruiting "necessary" men from farming centers.

We recently received a renewal from one of our prettiest subscribers, Mrs. Charles Dickinson of Pine Bluff.

Beer likely will vanish from the controlled places when the Board of Supervisors meet on November 15th.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

Last Saturday, we added 40 odd new names to our list which is not bad for a small country weekly. That number represented about four week's accumulation. George McLean of the Tupelo Journal would probably fire Rambling Buck if he did not turn in more. However, every one of these new subscribers were "walk ins".

Squire Pickle, the Chief Justice of Beat Four, who should be in a position to know and who certainly would not make a mis-statement told me Saturday that Beat Four was getting nearly as bad as Grenada. He has to try cases often on off-days, tho he usually can care for the business of his court on Saturdays. I guess we smug folks in Grenada will quit talking about Beat Four now.

The Episcopal women certainly put on a well-attended spaghetti supper Friday night at the Community House.

This office was honored Saturday with a visit from Captain Walte, the Intelligence Officer, and Captain Usell, the Post Exchange officer, both of Camp McCain.

Aint they sweet.

Get Dr. Hill to tell you that tale about that puppy.

Speaking of Hills, I guess we will just keep set-up the local item, "Francis Hill of Ole Mess spent the week end at home".

Pvt. William G. Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fess Bailey will receive the GCW a while at his new address in Pittsburgh, Pa. Welcome, Pvt. Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Martindale have moved to Schertz, Texas. Yes, that's the name, believe it or not.

Pete, surnamed LaGrone, the peppy power purveyor of Greenville, was a recent visitor to the hills.

It looks like OUR side is now getting a few breaks. It is time.

Mrs. Ed Gee, of Holcomb, has returned to the fold, having strayed off from the mailing list for several months.

All my lands in Beat Five, Grenada County, are hereby posted against hunting, fishing and other forms of trespass.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

All America Knows Budweiser... but Few Know This

THEY'VE PASSED THEIR 'PHYSICAL'-TOO

America's feathered and four-legged armies are very much on their toes these days. Yeast vitamins used in fortifying animal feeds have done wonders in recent years to better the quality and propagation of livestock and poultry. Did you know that the Home of Budweiser is America's biggest single source of these vitamins?

Year after year, we have striven with research and resources to better the methods and facilities for brewing Budweiser. To do this, a laboratory specializing in fermentation and nutrition was necessary. Discoveries made in the laboratory and in the plant have led to the development of products contributing to human necessity and progress. Some of these products would appear to have only a remote relationship to brewing, yet, they are the result of scientific research into many allied fields.

Endless research in making the world's leading beer has led to other products

VITAMINS, B COMPLEX—for manufacturers of pharmaceutical and food products. Our plant is one of the world's largest sources.

VITAMIN D—Anheuser-Busch produces enough of the basic material for Vitamin D to supply the entire American market.

BAKER'S YEAST—We are one of America's biggest suppliers of standard and enriched yeasts and malt syrup used to make bread.

CORN SYRUP—many millions of pounds annually for America's candy industry.

SYRUPS—for food, table and confectionery uses and special syrups for medicinal purposes.

STARCH—for food, textile, paper and other industries—millions of pounds annually.

REFRIGERATING EQUIPMENT—for retailers of frozen foods and ice cream the country over. This division is now working all-out on glider wing and fuselage assemblies for our Armed Forces.

DIESEL ENGINES—Adolphus Busch, founder of Anheuser-Busch, acquired the first rights to manufacture this revolutionary engine in America and thus started our great Diesel industry on its way.

Our Rotogravure Supplement

Our rotogravure supplement will be an integral part of some future edition of our newspaper, possibly the first edition in December. Every subscriber will therefore receive a copy of the supplement through the mail.

We have just about "closed up" the rotogravure section and are not soliciting any further space, but, until the "ALL OUT FOR VICTORY" EDITION comes out, those who wish to be represented can have space in the regular edition, that is the black and white part of the issue. We have already secured several pages of ads for this black and white section.

No one has intentionally been slighted. So far as we know every prospective cooperator has been approached by Mr. Meyers, who did most of the work of preparing this issue.

So far as we know this will be the ONLY rotogravure supplement ever issued by ANY newspaper in the State of Mississippi. As it will contain 32 pages, it will be among the LARGEST ever issued ANYWHERE.

Things Quieter Here Saturday Night

Things were much quieter on the Peavine and in "West Ward" Saturday night than they were on the previous Saturday night, when hell popped in those sections. I am speaking of the conditions around 10:30 when I made another tour by car through these sections.

Only the good natured carrying-on of the negroes and the laughter and fun inherent in that race were to be observed. I did not see a single white soldier in all of my rounds last Saturday night. The grist that the civil officers brought in the grind at the courts was not nearly so heavy last Monday as it was on the previous Monday, and this circumstance bears out what I said, that things were better.

The negroes have their own sections of this city. White civilians have no business meddling in those sections, and white soldiers should be MADE to keep out, as apparently they were kept out last Saturday night.

It is no reflection upon the negro soldier and civilian to say that he prefers to associate with members of his own race, and he should be permitted to do so without interference from white people.

Armistice Day, A Hollow Mockery At This Time

There seemed to be something fantastic and unreal about celebrating Armistice Day on Wednesday of this week. Celebrating Armistice Day when the world is engaged in a much greater war than the Armistice Day of 1918 temporarily closed seems like damn foolishness to me.

Celebrating Armistice Day now is very much like celebrating one's father's birthday several years after the old gentleman had been buried on the sunny slopes at Odd Fellows Cemetery.

It just does not make any sense.

Things We Refuse To Believe

We civilians are just around the corner from those shortages about which there has been a lot of talk. It will not be long before we shall be unable to buy items from an increasingly long list of luxuries and comforts.

Official spokesmen have warned that 300,000 retail stores will have to go out of business before the end of next year, and that we consumers will find ourselves back in the dark days of 1933, when the nation's worst depression was at its lowest point.

Competent business economists say that even this gloomy prediction is too optimistic—that, in fact, we are going back to the pre-World War I era before many of our now accustomed gadgets first went into mass production and became available to the rank and file.

We have been warned about this prospect time after time and then have gone to the stores and found it possible to buy anything for which we had the money. After so many apparently false alarms some of us are a bit indignant now that the pinch begins to be felt.

We shouldn't be. The alarms were real. The warnings were legitimate. They may have been a bit premature, but the intention of that was to break the bad news gradually.

The reason why, up to recently, we found plenty of everything in the stores was that we were drawing upon a huge reserve stock, made before factories began converting to war production. But the stock was not being renewed, and now it is getting alarmingly thin.

There still are a lot of labor-saving, comfort-producing, even luxury items to be had. But as each store cleans out its own reserve it cannot replenish, and so for more and more items each week we have to shop from store to store in hope that, by good chance, we shall find one that still isn't sold out.

Fortunately the pinch is going to be worse in the commodity fields where it will do least real harm.

There is no overall shortage in the raw materials for food and clothing. Some items are scarce, and some will disappear entirely; we won't have the wide selection of brands, sizes, containers, etc., to which we have become accustomed.

As we watch retail outlets disappear and shelves become bare in those that remain, we can console ourselves with the thought that—however we are deprived by contrast with 1930—everybody in the United States still can get more of necessities, and will have more of comforts, than the average man had in 1914.

Our standard of living is destined to fall.

Our chickens of reform are returning to roost. All of them are not war birds. Many of them were bred before the dark days of war in Europe.

Our soft ways must go. The hard ways of our pioneer fathers will return.

But America in the end will be stabilized. We hope and pray that this stabilization will return during this decade—or this generation—McComb Enterprise.

Unused Churches, America's Greatest Unused Asset

We have heard preachers say—via radio only—that, if we lose the war, the churches and religion in this country are likewise lost. I agree with this.

This being true, it follows then that the churches should exert every possible influence to see that the war is won.

Today, as never before, America, especially in defense areas, faces most acute shortages of space for offices, schools and other public or semi-public agencies.

The auditoriums in the churches of America are, at most, used not over three hours a week, while the vast number of Sunday School rooms are used ONLY one hour per week.

I seldom occupy space in either the auditorium or in the Sunday School rooms—not that I should not do so, I grant—and, therefore, I can look at the matter from a practical, not a religious standpoint.

With vital agencies in defense areas looking for space to work, and, in some areas, with the school plants inadequate to take care of the children very dear to the men spending a few brief months in America are they embark on a perilous journey to a highly uncertain fate, it seems that some of this unused space, which is equipped for heating, lighting and sanitation, could be used on week days for purposes conducive to the efficient prosecution of the war effort.

What do YOU think?

How To Farm

As some of my readers may know, I used to be a farmer. My father gave me 240 acres of the best land in Grenada county right after the first World War. The old lady and I worked hard there for about fourteen years, wasting the most productive periods of our lives, and finally deeded the farm to our creditor. Therefore we are just as well prepared to tell folks how to farm as any county agent or high-powered A. & M. specialist. Here's how to farm:

RULE NO. 1—Don't bother buying fertilizer. In the first place you can't get what the experts tell you to get and in the second place if you get it, there goes your profit, if any... and in the third place, why fertilize for the profit of weeds and bugs? NOTE: On 6 acres this should save you about $30 which you can set down to clear profit.

RULE NO. 2—Get all the bulletins you can from the county agent's office. They make nice wintertime reading and once you have read the catalogue of bugs, insects and worms which lie in wait for whatever you plan to plant, you will realize the hopelessness of feeding all of them satisfactorily and decide not to plant a garden again this year. This should represent a saving of about $10 and you can chalk this up to profit, too.

RULE NO. 3—Put up a sign "No Hunting" so you can protect your grey squirrels. They will busily plant seeds of oaks and pine all over the place and in practically no time at all you will have a fine stand of new young timber. In twenty years this should be worth perhaps fifty dollar an acre, whereupon you can have it cut, retire and spend the rest of your old age watching the squirrels work hard for a new crop to put your grandchildren through college.

CONCLUSION: There are other ways of farming. I am told, but all the rest represent entirely too much effort and none of them will show anything like the profit of the method I have carefully outlined here.

One Victory Does Not Win A War

In less than 24 hours after the announcement that troops and supplies of the United Nations have landed somewhere on the Mediterranean coast of French Africa, we hear numerous comments that "it won't be long now." Even though the German army is in full retreat, and even though the whole Axis force in Egypt is captured or annihilated, we should not forget that this battle sector is small, involving only about 125,000 troops, whereas there still remain millions on the Russian front and deep in Russian territory. There is no question but that, with the establishment of a new front by the Allies and with the possible complete rout of the German and Italian forces in Egypt, the morale of the Axis will be affected greatly.

However, it is wholly illogical and unreasonable to believe that we shall witness less than the best that can be thrown against Hitler's enemies until late in 1943. The Germans have made more enemies than they had in the last war, they have conquered more territory which they want to hold and finally they have less faith in the outcome of a peace settlement in their favor than did the war lords of the Kaiser. Their backs are to the wall; they know they must fight on. They believe it is a battle of extermination—that they shall be conquered in battle or be annihilated in the end by those whom they have conquered and persecuted mercilessly.

We believe, too, that Germany and Italy will be the first of the Axis alliance to quit or be conquered, but what Germany does or what the United Nations are able to do to her is one thing and dealing with Japan is quite another matter. Ray Cromley, writing in the Wall Street Journal says, "Japan wants an exhausted world to deal with, one that will be easy to handle. Thus, to the Japanese mind, the United Nations are useful in 'exhausting' the Germans, just as the Germans are valuable in 'exhausting' the United Nations."

Of our enemies, Japan is the most war-minded. She looked further into the future in mapping out her course of destruction and she has been actively engaged in war longer than either of the Axis nations. After more than three years of war against China we counted her through. We said she wanted to turn loose and couldn't. We said she was bankrupt, her people were tired of war and her essential supplies for waging war longer were depleted. We basked in the limelight of such misleading statements as, "Her soldiers are dumb; her aviators can't fly," etc. Many have contended that Japan has spread herself too thinly; we must recognize the fact that the United Nations, in delivering supplies to their allies to maintain their own bases of operations, cover by far more nautical miles than Japan.

Of course the picture looks brighter and the end is some nearer but let's not forget that we shall have an enemy to deal with long after the echo of the last shot in Europe has died out.

The sooner all of us forget the beer election and get back to an important matter—that of helping win the war—the better off all of us will be.

It is extremely likely that the sale of beer will be illegal in Grenada County on November 19, after the board of supervisors meets in a call session on the 18th.

Aint they sweet.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste.

Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed by the country over. Lasted on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

"If you have not used it (any ma-chinery) in three months, and if it can not be proved to you that it will be needed in the next three months, junk it!" is the slogan of the Indus-trial Scrap Committee. By applying that rule to your plant, you may pour many pounds of scrap into the hungry hopper.

We are closing out the rotogravure supplement space this week. We will try to see you about space in the black and white (or regular edition). This "All Out For Victory" edition will be the largest edition ever mailed out of the Grenada post office and the FIRST rotogravure supplement ever put out by a Mississippi newspaper. EVERY subscriber will get one, for the rate part will be just another part of the regular edition. The City of Grenada will "lay up" 500 copies of the roto supplement, and the C. of G. will "lay up" a similar number, for future use. We will have some extra copies for sale. If you want extra copies mailed out, we will mail them for 25 cents each. Just supply us with names and addresses and 2 bits each. We will do the rest.

Aint they sweet.

Camp McCain News

Headline news of the week is that the correct title now is Captain Em-mons. Sir! Jimmie, Mrs. Annie Hughes, and a great crowd of the Jones boys took off for New Orleans for the game, and other amusements, with Jimmie still a Lieutenant. Came Saturday morning and the official news of the promotion reached McCain and there was a frantic rush to get the glad news to Jimmie. One tele-gram read, "Congratulations, put your two bars on for the game, Captain! Another, longer and more elaborate, was sent collect. Then Mr. Warren, with the full cooperation of Bessie Ray, telephoned, but none could find Jimmie. Finally he was located in the Bar, er, Coffee Shop, and Annie Hughes gallantly and with ceremonial bearing planned on the coveted two bars.

Of course a party followed, and another when they arrived back in camp. There was a fine one given at the Betsy Ross Inn on Monday, with a whole crowd attending and congratulating.

Speaking of the army, more and more officers, and their families, are arriving in Grenada these days, and it is impossible to learn even a few of their names to tell you. Mr. Artie Pew, of S. and P., say that they must think that his apartment is a hotel, for his wife has been so busy answer-ing the door, where stand hopeful would-be-renters that she hasn't been feeding him enough of late. That's a fine way to treat a former All Ameri-can star.

One thing we did notice was the surprising of very young majors and Lt. Colonels. One young man came in the office yesterday who looked too young to be drafted, and we looked again, and he was wearing golden leaves. And they weren't camouflage, either!

Let's leave the military now, and talk a little about the doing of the girls in the front building. Mrs. Ines Moore is going to Jackson this week-end to see G. C. M. C. Jackson game. Her husband, now an officer station-ed in Honolulu. He was formerly the football-basketball coach at G. C. M. C. before he volunteered. There will be a large reunion at Jackson of the Gulfport crew, which Ines has prom-ised to attend.

Miss Grace "When do I get my re-lapse" Johnson spent the week-end in Chattanooga, visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Private and Mrs. Lee Russell Johnson. Lee is stationed at Camp Forest, and his wife came back to Grenada with Grace to work for a time.

Carrie Young spent a long week-end, beginning Friday, in Sardis with her folks.

Capt. Price went to Memphis Mon-day, but we can't talk about his busi-ness, for he is a fellow writer, and consequently, a fellow squealer.

Cornelia T. now has a new room-mate since hubby Ed joined the Sea Bees, Miss Marie Trusty, of Missis-sippi Mud Fame.

"ajor" Davis, the man who sports the Number 1 Iriy button, has about completely recovered from his three week sojourn in the hospital, last month. The Major was bitten on the ankle by a mosquito. In two days the ankle was triple its size, and the next night, the whole leg was swollen. So Major Davis was dragged to the hos-pital. One telegram, supposedly of sympathy, read, "I never thought that a little mosquito could down a big buzzard like you."

Oh, here's something of a scoop. Dennis "I'll never fall in love" Norton has been seen squiring the same little blue eyes and black hair around Mem-phris the past month. Despite the ef-forts of some of the Grenada gals to convince Dennis that the lonely road he was travelling would but lead him to boredom and bachelorhood, he has remained immune, so far. And we ain't predictin' nuthin', neither.

Of course you all know that Mickey J. Lee went to Vicksburg this week-end. She says that her brother met her there, but one of our friends says that he saw her brother in New Or-leans at the game.

Then Mrs. Reed went home this week-end, to Jackson, accompanied by Miss Lorraine Von Dalton. Sarah's mother was in charge of a choir pro-gram at the church there, so the two girls spent a quiet evening.

Little Miss Louise Sanderson has been quite ill these last few days. She loves liver, calf's liver, especially, so much that she honestly acquired the name of "Lou Liver" Sanderson this summer. Well, Monday noon at the Barwin she tried to wrap her 4 "11" around a whole liver, and she is still suffering.

PARKS-ANDERSON

An event of interest in the Fall so-cial season was the marriage of Miss Flora Lillian Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Anderson, of Mobile Alabama, who became the bride of Pvt. Eugene H. Parks, son of Mrs. Es-telle Jane Parks, of Grenada, at the First Baptist Church here. The Rev. Glen Eric Wiley officiated, saying the single ring ceremony at eight o'clock Saturday evening, November 7, 1942 in the presence of the immediate families and a group of close friends.

The vows were exchanged before a beautifully decorated altar. White chrysanthemums held in white floor baskets were placed on either side and in the center of the altar. Large green ferns helped to complete the pic-ture. The candlelight from the candi-ble cast a soft glow over the church. The bride, wearing a Fall frock of powder blue crepe, entered on the arm of the brother of the groom, Mr. Ira Parks, of Grenada, Mississippi. Her dress was fashioned with a tight bod-ice that closed at the back with cov-ered buttons with a touch of blue ruf-fling to trim the neckline and bottom of the pleated skirt. Dubonnet acces-sories completed her ensemble. She carried a bridal bouquet of briarcliff roses.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Melba Anderson, also of Grenada, whose dress was fashioned of black velvet. Her hat was of black velvet with pink and blue feathers and black veiling. Her cor-sage was pink rose buds.

The dress of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. S. Anderson, complimented that of the maid of honor being a soft black crepe trimmed with silver metal work at the neckline and on the pocket.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Tom Darras, of Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Kath-erine Wilson, organist, rendered ap-propriate nuptial music, playing first, "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life." Miss Dorothy Evelyn Parks, sister of the groom, and Miss Sara Martindale, sang, "I Love You Truly." The traditional wedding march and recessional were used.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a week-end in Mem-phris.

The bride received her high school education at Grenada, Mississippi. She attended the Grady School of Tech-nology in St. Louis, Mo. She is now employed as X-Ray Laboratory Tech-nician at the Grenada Hospital.

Pvt. Parks was graduated from Gre-nada High School. He has been in the Air Corps for three months and is now stationed at Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Mo. Before entering the ser-vice he was a valued employee of Fair Lumber Co. at Louisville, Miss.

ODOM-DOLBY

The marriage of Mrs. Sue Wolfe Dolby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wolfe, of Grenada County, to Mr. Willard Odom was solemnized on Tuesday, November 10th at 7 p. m. in the pastor's study at the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. C. A. Pharr, of-ficiating in the presence of relatives and close friends.

The groom is Chief of Police in Gre-nada.

Mr. and Mrs. Odom will reside at their apartment in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Peacock.

Mrs. J. L. Acee and Miss Alma Acee met Mr. and Mrs. Joe G. Acee, of Sulligent, Ala., in Memphis Sat-urday, so the family could all be together before Joe leaves for Norfolk, Va. for eight weeks' training. After his training he will be ready to join the fleet. He has been appointed chief specialist physical instructor.

Mrs. A. S. Bell spent several days in Memphis last week visiting her son, S. S. Bell, also her grandson, Dr. Spencer Bell, of Knoxville, Tenn., who was enroute to the Navy. He was commissioned First Lieutenant M. C. USNR and stationed at Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Doak and Mr. Gus Pierson spent several days including the week-end and Monday in New Or-leans.

Mr. C. C. Cathey was called to New Orleans last Friday to attend the funeral of his uncle Mr. Jim Cathey, who died on Thursday, November 5.

Mrs. Hal Rogers left today (Thurs-day) to visit her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Clark and family at It-ta Bena. She will be away from home two days.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Thompson, of Durant, are new citizens here re-siding in the McLean Apts. Mr. Thom-son is to fill the vacancy created when Mr. A. L. Trotman was trans-ferred to Oxford.

Dr. and Mrs. F. S. Hill, their son, Francis, who was at home last week-end from Ole Miss, and Mrs. R. C. Trusky spent Sunday last with Mr. and Mrs. Roland Jones at Lula.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY
The Auxiliary of the American Leg-ion met at the home of Mrs. Jack Sanderson Monday evening, Mrs. Mc-Corkle, president, presided and a business session followed the opening devotional.

This well attended meeting proved very interesting. The Auxiliary mem-bers discussed displaying the Ameri-can flag, also service flags on the front of every home in Grenada, and wish to urge the citizens to do this.

The club will hold regular weekly rehearsals through the present semes-ter. Its first public appearance, so far announced will be the presentation of Handel's Messiah the first week in February.

Barney Echols Promoted To 2nd Lt. Air Corps

Barney F. Echols, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Echols, of Tie Plant, re-ceived his commission as Second Lieuten-ant, Air Corps, on October 28, 1942 after attending a three-months course at the Administrative School, Miami, Beach, Florida.

He is an original member of the "home company" raised in Grenada by Captain James Shaw two years ago. He was successively promoted until he became eligible for the officers train-ing course, at which, we are happy to report, he made good.

Our old war buddy, Boots Jones, from Cleveland in the swamp shared two fifty of his money with us to re-new his subscription.

I do not want to be an old sour pas, and deprecate the splendid success that the American-British arms have had in North Africa, for those arms have made great success, but I do want to remind the readers that the war is not over by a long shot; that millions of lives have yet to be sacrificed before the Three Horsemen—Hitler, Hirohito and Mussolini—are saddled.

I believe that the grand strategy of the Japanese is to wait until the members of the white race exhaust themselves in their intestine fight, then step in and attempt to conquer the world. Frankly, it would not surprise me to see, before peace finally settles on the earth, British, German, American and Italian soldiers fighting together against the Japanese.

The Scott twins, with their trim nose, taking their airing, is about the most handsome couple in Grenada.

Sgt. Roy Lee Grantham is home on a ten-days furlough.

No, soldiers, we have no rooms, apartments or houses. This statement we have to repeat dozens of times a day.

Extension of sympathy is about the only help that I can extend the soldiers who are seeking places to stay in Grenada.

Cousin J. H. Hall, of Cascilla, free state, has been added to our list. He is a blood cousin, not a subscription.

You had better fill out the papers for your gas line rationing card next week. You had better turn in any tires, over and above five that you own.

Our people are gradually getting in to the hands of the American Gestapo. There is a lot of damn foolishness going on.

Mrs. Clyde L. Thompson, whose husband took Trotman's place with the Southern Bell took the right step when the first thing she subscribed for the GOW.

Our neighbor, McCarley, who runs his laundry day and night, is another new one whom we welcome.

Our married son, Andrew, is now in an air field near Nashville, starting on a radio course. I hope it is divulging anything valuable to the enemy to mention this, nor in mentioning that it is generally believed that they will get around to some of the single fellows, apparently overlooked, before the war is over.

I understand that 72 men of Grenada county are leaving for their final physical examination at Camp Shelby Friday. Quite a number of these men are married. Oh, me, what a war!

Little Prich Horton spent the week-end with his folks in Grenada.

24 young men, many of them married, leave finally for the wars on Sunday. Some of the married one thought, like I do, that the list of single men should be exhausted first. However, all of us may be crazy.

Above everything else, I despise a damn hypocrite. Let's see what hypocrite is, according to Webster, maybe I love a hypocrite. No, I despise him, for this is what Mr. Webster says, "one who practices hypocrisy; a dissiminator." Let's see what hypocrisy is. Oh, yes, here it is, "a feigning to be what one is not, dissimulation; false profession." Yes, I hate a damn hypocrite worse than hell.

Captain Sam J. Simmons, wife and child are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam J. Simmons, Sr. this week.

Yes, I see a few privates scattered around among the colonels, majors, captains, lieutenants, sergeants and corporals. They do have a FEW privates in the army. To whom else could the buck be passed?

Meyers took his wife, the old lady and me down to Grenada Hotel for a good meal Sunday. I ate so much, I was worth less than a damn the rest of the day.

Sam Pipkin, who is working over in the swamp, came back home for Sunday. He is like an old fox squirrel who lay up nuts and acorns in the summer for winter use.

It would be foolish and futile for anyone to protest the beer election, even if a technicality could postpone the closing. Vox Pop; Vox Dell, if you know your Latin.

I saw another fellow I knew one day last week.

GRENADA COUNTY LIBRARY

National Book Week will be observed throughout the United States Nov. 15-21. Here in Grenada, the library will be open daily to readers and visitors. New books will be on display and you are urged to come to see us. The children will be special guests of the library for story-hour during the week.

The slogan for Book Week will be "Forward with Books." How few places in the world could such a slogan be used! "In this war, we know that books are weapons. And it is part of your dedication always to make them weapons for man's freedom!"—Franklin D. Roosevelt. The Japanese destroyed an American Library in the Philippines, thus for the first time bringing the direct menace of this war to American culture and books and to those who work with books. This brings home the fact that librarians are fighting where ever free libraries still exist. This is our war let's read about it.

THINGS THAT MAR FAMILY LIFE

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 27:30-35; Matthew 23:23, 25; Luke 12:13-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.—Galatians 6:2.

Home is what you make it! Oh, yes, there may be circumstances which hinder us from doing what we would like—such as poverty, illness, unemployment, etc. These are things we cannot control and certainly they do have a bearing. But man or woman when of the right spirit can triumph over such matters and make even the poorest home the gateway to heaven. It is a matter of the attitude of heart and mind. Our lesson then is very practical, for it deals with those sins which mar family life.

Whatever our circumstances may be, we can and must turn away from sin—and in this case, the sins which hinder the home from being what it ought to be. God has provided victory over sin through Christ for all who believe in Him.

What then are the sins which stand as the enemies of the home?

I. Deceit (Gen. 27:30-35).

Whatever the circumstances of the home may be, there can be absolute honesty and candor in the dealings between members of the family. Our recent study of the story of Jacob and Esau showed us the sad consequences of the deceit practiced by Jacob and his mother in defrauding Esau. Many elements entered in, the favoritism of the mother toward one son, the envy that the brother had of his elder brother's birthright, the wicked scheming of mother and son to outwit the aged father—all a very distressing picture of a home shot through with deceitfulness. To build anything of permanent value on such a foundation was quite impossible.

The family in which deceitful means are used by husband or wife to gain some advantage for self or a favored child is heading for the rocks and needs to turn about and get into the channel of truth and uprightness before it is too late.

II. Divorce (Matt. 5:31, 32).

One of the most destructive elements of modern life is that of divorce. Terrifying statistics could be quoted, but they are not nearly as moving as the knowledge most of us have of broken homes, delinquent children, decadent morals, etc., and nauséum. The victims of this deadly evil are primarily the children who are sent on into life with disordered minds and hearts.

Jesus declared that the decree of divorce allowed by Moses was not an abrogation of God's original law in this matter. Because of the "hardness of their hearts" (Mark 10:4) Moses permitted it, but the standard of God was and (note this please!) is unchanged.

Marriage, as we saw in our lesson of November 1, is God's plan for the perfect union of the man and woman whereby the two become one in the sight of God. That means that the tie is not one to be dissolved at will or on some purely legal ground; it is an inseparable union.

The only exception recognized by Scripture (v. 32) is that of unfaithfulness which is such a breach of the holy union as to virtually destroy it. Perhaps it might be called a recognition of the breaking of the union rather than an exception. Adultery is a heinous sin, an extremely serious violation of God's law. Let us press that fact home today when it is so lightly regarded in our sinful generation.

III. Desire (Luke 12:13-15).

Money is necessary and may be a blessing, but the "love of money is the root of all evil" (I Tim. 6:10). That is not just a verse in the Bible. It is the true picture of the thing which has destroyed the happiness of millions.

Here was a quarrel over an inheritance, and to meeting it our Lord laid down a principle which would solve all the money quarrels in every home—and they are countless in number and great in bitter destructiveness.

"Man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth" (v. 15). Write it large over the mirror and hearts of the boys and girls in our homes! Let it control in the attitude of father and mother toward money. It will solve not only the money problems of the home, but will send the children forth into life with a foundation philosophy that will bless them to the end of their days.

Notice verse 14. It is the desire for money that most often makes man desire to be a judge over his brother. The big eyes of envy cause him to look with bitter desire upon what his brother has and he wants. The fine principle of sharing the family's possessions would do much to knit the home into a unit—happy, strong and useful to both God and man. The point is to say "ours" rather than "mine," and to ask, "What can we do?" not, "What can I get?"

Knitwear Keeps You Warm and Smartly Attired All Day Long

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

SUCH a spurge of things knitted of gay and beautiful yarns in intricate patterns and unique design as fashion is making this season.

Pullovers, cardigans by day and bed jackets by night; smart tailored woolknit jackets for town wear; sweaters for casual wear, for sports or attuned to dine-and-dance wear; waistcoats, vests and dickies too stunning for words; jerkins, too, to add extra warmth, and to sound a convincing note of chic—this is the message fashion is broadcasting to the challenge of prospective "lowered room temperatures in houses, theaters and stores this winter due to fuel restrictions, and of gas rationing, which will cause us to walk more than ever before.

One of the outstanding items of interest in the new collections is the waistcoat, now being revived in all its former glory. Note the smart checked knitted vesties, or waistcoat, shown to the left in the above picture. Here's warmth for you undivided with a declaration of definite chic. Choose it in yellow, gray and white check as shown here, and you will make no mistake. Add a hundred per cent Australian wool sweater and you will have the kind of protection that cold wintry blasts will find it difficult to penetrate.

As to tailor-knit jackets, they are not missing a fashion "trick" in their styling. They are taking the place of the gay tweed jackets (at least they make a grand alternative) which have been so conspicuously present for many seasons.

It takes mastery styling to achieve a knitted jacket as smart and patrician looking as the model shown at the lower right in the illustration. This navy and white tailored knit jacket is one hundred per cent wool. As pictured it is worn with wool slacks. It would be equally as good-style worn with a dress or with a separate skirt.

As to the new sweaters, volumes could be written about them. The prospect is that there will be a stampede this winter for both utilitarian types and evening modes of dazzling mien.

Yarn Ensemble

This most intriguing hat and muff set goes to show the perfectly charming things that are being done with gay yarns this season. The flattering hat with its pert tall-pointed crown, together with the huge muff, is in a beautiful shade of turquoise blue yarn with black jet beads decorating the fringe. The enormous muff is a crochet and knit masterpiece. A dramatic jewelry ensemble of highly polished faceted jet adds the perfect touch to this accessory group.

Fluid Drape

The one dress that stands pre-eminently forth as making a grand success of it from the very beginning of the season is the silhouette dress of crepe, satin, or rayon or of wool jersey, that is made with utmost simplicity, its importance centering about the exquisiteness of its fluid drape that swings it into graceful slenderizing lines.

College girls are making a mad rush for twin sweater sets, a pull-over teamed with a jacket sweater type. Fashion is especially featuring shaggy effects, with teddy-bear cardigans in the lead. White sweaters with vivid wool embroidery and novelty yarn fringe trimming are particularly in the spotlight this season.

Evening sweaters provide a theme for poets to sing of and painters to glorify in portraiture. To say that they dazzle the eye is not a figure of speech, but literally so. The big news about them is their glittering embroidery. The white woolknit evening sweater shown above to the right is elegantly embroidered with pearls and fine gold braid. Note the novel bracelet embroidered directly on the knitted surface. Long "cultured" pearls, diamond earrings and a dainty spray-pin of pearls for the hair complete the jewelry ensemble.

By the way, it's correct to wear beads and jewelry with daytime sweaters as well as with evening knits. The smart young modern pictured in the group wearing the checked knitted vest is very appropriately flaunting a new version of the popular bangle bracelets in light and dark amber set in gold. Also, she is proudly wearing an amber ring set in gold and a chateleine gold watch suspended by a chain from a gold key pin.

Glitter Brightens

Simple Dark Wools

The fact that simple little daytime wool frocks, and even knitted modes, are highlighted with glitter accents in the way of bead work and sequin embroidery is very style-significant. Two outstanding trends in the use of glitter notes give variety to the mode.

The one is the positioning of a single motif of sequin-worked flowers on frocks that are otherwise styled with extreme simplicity. An afternoon frock of either velvet or crepe that interprets this technique makes for good style this season.

The other gesture in adding the sparkle highlight is seen in alluring sheer yokes that top otherwise simple dark dresses. These yokes are often as filmy as chiffon or sheer weaves can make them, and they take on glamour in that they are finished off at the lower edge with a handworked jewelry effect or a huge bowknot done in sequins. Sometimes the treatment is varied in that the filmy yoke is allover studded with seed pearls or sparkling tiny beads.

Neckline Notes

Both long and short dresses often have low square necklines and plunging V-necks. There is a disposition on the part of designers to create such fascinating, artful effects that the rest of the dress is styled with extreme simplicity as to better accent the chic and charm of the ingenious neckline. Accents of sequins, embroidery and filmy black lace add to the picture.

Quilted Satin

Quilted satin in pastel colors is a new medium for collar and cuff sets. Yokes with square necklines and dickies with round "jewelry" necklines are popular. For fall-winter for velvet suits there are metal cloth dickies in high colors, such as emerald, purple and fuchsia red.

Army, Navy in Need Of Goose Feathers

Plucking Live Geese Will Help Farm Income

Plucking live geese is one way farmers may be able to help their country in wartime and at the same time pick up some extra money.

Goose feathers are in considerable demand for use in making flying suits for aviators and in other ways to protect American soldiers and sailors against the cold.

The feathers are now bringing a good price.

Poultry raisers usually pluck the feathers from live geese prior to molting. A few pick as often as every six weeks during the spring, summer, and early fall, while others pick only once or twice a year, either in the spring or fall.

Feathers are plucked only when the quills appear dry and do not contain blood. Both young and old geese are plucked. About a pound of feathers may be plucked from a goose during a year.

Feathers are never pulled after November 15, or the geese will not be in full feather for marketing; neither are they plucked during the breeding season.

In plucking, a stocking is usually put over the head of the goose and the soft feathers on the breast, back, and abdomen are pulled.

Not more than five quill feathers should be pulled from each wing. Enough short feathers to provide support underneath the wings are always left.

Feathers are partly cured before they are shipped by placing them in sacks of loosely woven material hung in the loft of a building where there is good air circulation. Feathers in the bags are stirred occasionally during this curing period.

Scrap in Barnyard

Suppose you stood in your barnyard and watched plane after plane fly over and drop in the nearby pasture a 100-pound bomb every second of every minute of every hour of every day for more than three years.

Well, there's enough scrap iron and steel on the farms of the United States (1,250,000 tons) to enable Uncle Sam's airplanes to drop that number of bombs on the enemy throughout the world.

Farmers are urged to aid the nation's program of victory by collecting and selling all their old scrap iron and steel.

If the 1,250,000 tons of scrap iron and steel on American farms were collected and used in the making of battleships there would be enough to make more than twice as many as there are today.

Recent reports coming in from rural area scrap-collecting headquarters show that, despite the shortage of farm help, the longer hours being faced by the farmers, scrap is being collected in amounts which, although satisfactory, could be doubled easily enough if every one did his bit.

Agricultural Notes

As the 1942 cotton picking season gets underway, farmers are confronted with grade and staple premiums and discounts entirely different from those of recent years.

The proper handling of apples during harvesting and packing and the use of proper storage methods before shipment will lessen the load on war-burdened transportation facilities.

To Be Agreeable
Few are qualified to shine in company, but it is in most men's power to be agreeable.—Swift.

AROUND THE HOUSE

It is not usually advisable to let prepared but uncooked vegetables stand for any time in water; it frequently causes a loss of mineral content.

When carving a rolled or standing rib roast use a very sharp, thin-bladed, long handled knife. For the rolled roast cut thin slices across the top; for standing roasts cut in thin slices at right angles to the ribs.

Broiled vegetables brown better when dipped in salad oil or melted butter.

When sandpapering surfaces that are to be painted, the work is made much easier if sandpaper is folded over a small block of wood.

Take some garden soil, mix in some compost and fertilizer, and put it away where it won't freeze. Then next winter or next spring when you want to do some extra potting of plants, you will have some nice soil ready.

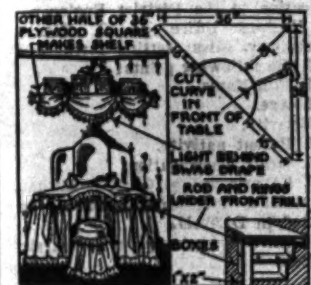

In the home, plants give off moisture through the leaves, from the surface of the soil, and from the pot itself if it is of the porous type, so provide sand, sphagnum moss or similar material, to keep the pots moist. And, if possible, keep the temperature down to below 68 degrees.

A leaky chimney flue is one of the most expensive and troublesome breeding ailments from which any house can suffer. If you suspect that your chimney harbors a leak, lose no time in making sure of it, and if there is a leak, even a small one, have it repaired at once.

Custards can be enhanced by a bay leaf boiled in the milk.

Be sure that the fruits and nuts are well distributed throughout your fruit-cake mixtures. Chop or grind them into uniform-sized pieces and sprinkle them well with flour to prevent them from sticking together or remaining in one spot in the cake batter.

Chinese 'Rights'

In New York city, every Chinese who rents a store or some other business building claims that he has a "basic property right" in it and, therefore, will not allow another Chinese to lease it until the man has purchased this right, says Collier's. When such a demand runs into thousands of dollars, the owner is seldom able to rent the property again to a member of this race.

SYMBOLISM OF CLASS RINGS

There's something new under the sun as everyone in High School is probably aware of by now. I am speaking of the Senior rings, which arrived Monday. All the dignified seniors have been rushing around proudly displaying their rings, but I wonder how many of us have seriously stopped to think just what these rings symbolize. They represent twelve years of our life, twelve years in which we have constantly been seeking our education. Now, those twelve years are drawing to a close. What have we really done to be worthy of our rings? Have we done anything to make our school remember us long after we are gone, or has ours been a life of selfishness? When we started to school we were told that if we studied hard and made good grades, some day we would be a senior and have a pretty ring like big brother's or sister's. During those years, whether consciously or unconsciously, we have worked toward that goal. The vision of the very rings we have and are now wearing on our fingers has spurred us on to greater effort.

Our ring symbolizes, too, a part of the American way of life. It is a luxury we are permitted to have, and one which we would not be allowed in any other country. It gives us a feeling of importance, of having achieved a certain place in life which cannot be taken from us. It also gives to us the ambition to go on to greater things and higher honors. It fills us with a desire to serve our country in which we have these wonderful opportunities. Yes, our class rings represent a definite goal post in our life—something which is ours only because we have worked for it.

In the years to come, we will look at our rings and recall our happy school days, the many friends we made here, and the high ambitions we planned for ourselves, and stop to wonder whether we are really carrying them out.

We are proud of our class rings—May we always keep them as a symbol of all the things we have held dear in our twelve years of school life.

GRENADE DEFEATS CANTON 28 TO 0

The Grenada Bulldogs gave Canton a sound drubbing Friday night at Proby Field to the tune of 28 to 0. The triumph was the Bulldogs' seventh in eight starts this season.

Edgar Turnipseed scored in the opening minutes on a five yard faunt through the right side of his line, climaxing a long Grenada drive. Turnipseed passed to Marascacio for the extra point. Again in the second quarter, after driving down the field, the Bulldogs tallied on a beautiful twenty-five yard pass from Turnipseed to Collins.

Collins backed over for the extra point. Turnipseed scored in the third quarter from the one, and Purdie added the extra point. The Bulldogs made their last touchdown in the fourth period when Purdie ploughed over from the three, Turnipseed accounting for the extra point.

The Grenada backs made no exceptionally long runs for scores as in previous games, but it was their steady pounding of the Canton line that accounted for the markers. The big thrill came for the crowd in the third quarter when Captain Bennie Moore intercepted a Can't pass on his own eighteen and, just as it seemed that he would be smothered, later called to Turnipseed, who carried the ball on a beautiful run to Canton's twenty-nine yard line.

The Bulldogs' next and final game of the season will be played against Charleston on Friday night November 20, at Proby Field.

FOOTBALL TEAM ROYALLY ENTERTAINED BY SPONSOR WINIFRED SAUNDERS

A more enjoyable time could not have been spent by anyone than that spent by the boys on the Football Squad last Sunday, Nov. 8, 1942, at the Saunders' estate.

Upon our arrival, we were greeted by the whole family and made more comfortable than if we had been at home.

Before the stampee for dinner, we listened to Mr. Saunders' story-telling which was a delight to all of us.

When the call, "Come and get it," we really went and got it. "It" included: turkey, potato salad, bread and butter, pickle, watermelon pickle, cranberry sauce, chocolate milk, more turkey and ice cream. To top all that, and we ate until we couldn't walk back to the table to get anymore, we had, in technicolor, a motion picture of the Orange Bowl game between Mississippi State and Georgetown. During the showing of this we heard one boy, not calling any names, but he is the preacher's son, munching on a big piece of turkey.

As a member of the Football Squad of '42, I have three regrets:

(1) I regret that it has been all these years before Grenada Football Squad has found such a perfect sponsor as Winifred Saunders and her family.

(2) I regret that it will be many many times that long and then much longer before they have another.

(3) I regret that not every other squad could enjoy their hospitality as much as we, the squad of '42.

BAND AND PEP SQUAD PERFORM

Friday night at the football game between Grenada and Canton, the Girls' Pep Squad, which has been heard but not seen at previous games, made its first appearance on the field at the half. The band and Pep Squad marched on the field with the band playing "Deep In The Heart Of Texas" and the girls clapping their hands. When they had reached the front of the grandstand, the band played and the Pep Squad sang, "Go, Grenada, Go," written by Mr. Cash. Then the Pep Squad marched among the band, and while the band played, the girls formed the letters H-A-T-H-O-R-N, honoring Coach Hathorn. Then the band played, and the Pep Squad sang our Alma Mater.

DIRT

Beebe and Joe McKell are strictly the latest.

We are afraid Rookie will develop a crick in his neck from trying to look at a certain girl on the back row in English and trying to look at Miss Turner at the same time.

Something has been missing around GHS this week. All the students keenly miss Rose and Munford Rhett, who were outstanding members of high school. They have moved to Clarksdale with their family. Success to them in their new home!

Benton Keeton, who was at home from college, occupied Margaret Green's entire attention this past week end.

The senior class missed Johnny Mitchell, who is in Memphis for on operation on his arm. May he soon be back among his classmates.

First Lieutenant L. C. Proby honored our school with a visit before going back to active service.

Rings, rings, and more rings! The Seniors have shed some of their dignity, running around exclaiming over those long-awaited bands of gold!

The Senior class has finally done away with Macbeth. Long may he stay done away with.

Who says that all acids have to have hydrogen in them? Anyway what difference does it make?

SPORTLIGHTS

John Box
The Bulldogs "slug" the mud in Sardi's race to pound out a slim 6-0 count over the "Men of Sardi's" in the grid tunnel there last Friday week. Turnipseed paddled his way through the mud for the Bulldogs' lone victory score.

Coming up Friday night week is the traditional game between Charleston and the Bulldogs. Rivals of long standing Charleston and Grenada are both undefeated in the conference, while Charleston has been tied once. You can rest assured that both teams will be out there to draw blood. Besides wanting to win because of the rivalry this tussle will decide the conference champion. So when you come out to see this game you will see a game that is a game. So come on out and support the Bulldogs.

The Grenada Bulldogs played "ring around the rosy" with the Canton picknics aggregation Friday night to the tune of 27-0. Turnipseed "pulled the wool" over Canton's eyes for two of the Bulldogs' touchdowns while Collins and Purdie "hit the jackpot" for the other two.

Softball is in again with a "thud." A. A. by the way did I say something in the last column about Turnipseed batting average? Well, "Brother Turnip," you now have someone to keep you company "down there in the bottom," in the person of me.

It seems that Casey Jones "lamed" the ball clean out of the park after which he bent out his way to first base where he stopped and looked around to see where the ball had disappeared to, then suddenly as though startled out of his wits said, "Gory, I hit a home run." He then peacefully meandered on back to home plate.

J. B. Costlow's "four eyes" certainly have a mean look when he unwinds to make the "delivery," or is it the sun reflected in his "specks."

"Mr. Fisher" must love home plate or ever time he hits the ball he falls a wa on the "pot." Seems like he can't get his gears shifted into "first" to make the "getaway."

Calling all gals—get the softball rolling again so we can win a something about you all, or had you rather watch the "gentlemen" of GHS lap the "hickory" to the "feather." By the way, some of you "skirts" that adorn the lawn on the campus are within easy range of the "powerhouse" swing of "Terry Mack" so you don't look out you are liable to get your "dome" "adorned" with a knot caused by the fall of a softball.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

My favorite waitress and my favorite blonde are working at the same place these days.

Matt Cooley said he had 15 new over the night boarders Saturday night, but that last Saturday night was much quieter than the previous Saturday night.

Twenty-four young men, some of them married men, will leave for the wars tomorrow (Friday). Maybe they will get around to some of the single ones, apparently overlooked, before the war is over and before they start getting old veterans like Harry Greenfield and me. If I were single, I'll be damned if I would not be ashamed to show my face on the streets. I would come out wearing dark glasses only just before the owls went in for the coming day.

I think I will go before the grand jury next term and see if anything can be done about forgery.

Brother A. N. Strahan is another ram returned to the fold after having strayed off a few months.

Let's not delude ourselves into the belief that, because of one major victory, the war is over. It has just started. One victory does not win a war, like one swallow does not make a summer.

Let this sink in: Squire Pickle said that Bent Four was getting almost as bad as Grenada.

I do not see how Taylor Hayward and Matt Cooley can look out after ALL the devilment in Grenada County. Matt told me that he got to bed at 6 o'clock Sunday morning, but to be awakened at 7.

Pvt. George Haylock, now stationed in Florida, was a recent visitor to his old stamping ground in Grenada.

Willie Lee Sykes, who had quite an illness last week, is up and about again.

Sgt. Lee Taylor Worsam, of the Air Corps at Columbia, S. C. is spending his first furlough in 22 months of service with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Worsam near Gore Springs.

Cotton wagons, especially on the highways, should carry lights at night, as the law directs.

In the rush or things that well might overwhelm her, the old lady neglected to mention the fact that Mr. Ben Moody, of Los Angeles, was visiting his niece, Mrs. John Bradley, and family. Mr. Moody is a native of this section and is brother of the late Mr. Ed Moody, father of Mrs. Bradley and of Mrs. J. J. Williams, of Sarasota, Florida.

Mrs. E. L. Bex and two daughters, Mesdames Red Hughes and Fletcher Klinka, are visiting their son and brother, Sgt. E. L. Bex in San Antonio.

J. E. Stanford, a substantial colored farmer and merchant near Grayport, has been added to the list. One by one, we are getting ALL of the worthwhile colored people on our list.

Keep white soldiers off the Peavine and from the colored sections of West Ward. Good white people respect the rights of the negroes, while good negroes respect the rights of the white people.

Sgt. Ralph J. Davis has become Aviation Cadet Ralph J. Davis. Congratulations, Cadet.

There has NEVER been any "race-trouble" in Grenada County. We do not know what that is, and do not care to learn.
